

Father John's Medicine For Colds and Body Building

After using Father John's Medicine for years, Mrs. Leon Vermette, who lives at the corner of Walton and Clifton streets, Fitchburg, Mass., says: "It has been a great help for coughs and colds and is very good for strengthening the children. It has been a success where others have failed for my babies. I give it to the children when they have a cough or cold or to build them up."

The strengthening food elements in Father John's Medicine are so easily taken up and made into new flesh and strength by children or older people who are weakened and run down. It has proved its value by more than 70 years' success as a body builder and in the treatment of colds and throat troubles.

Caring for N. Y. Water Supply

Important Work Which Is Carried On Daily in Ulster County Described to Kingston Rotarians by Ralph N. Wheeler.

Rotarians were entertained and instructed at their luncheon at The Governor Clinton this week by Ralph N. Wheeler, division engineer of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity of the city of New York, who told them a lot of things that few residents of Ulster county know about properties and events that are right here every day. Among other things Mr. Wheeler made plain the fact that the department he represents, which operates and controls the Ashokan reservoir and Catskill aqueduct, is entirely distinct from the Board of Water Supply, which acquires and constructs. Among other facts Mr. Wheeler brought out the following:

The people of Kingston generally know only one organization which has to do with New York's water supply, namely, the Board of Water Supply. This, perhaps, is natural when we recall the great activities of the board in Ulster and adjoining counties in connection with the developing of the Catskill supply. But for nearly 10 years another organization, the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, has had jurisdiction over the work completed by the B. W. S. on Esopus Creek and within a year will probably assume charge over the completed Schoharie development. The B. W. S. was created by Act of Legislature in 1916, and is responsible for investigating, recommending, and constructing new sources of supply, which, on completion must be turned over to the D. W. S. G. and E. for operation and maintenance. The expenses and construction funds of the board are provided by issues of bonds or corporate stock. Its operations are not subject to the limitations of a budget system.

The D. W. S. G. and E., on the other hand is a regular city department, prescribed under the charter and presided over by a commissioner appointed by the mayor. Funds for the operations of the department are allowed under a budget system, although certain capital expenditures, which it may make, such as extensions of the city distribution system, construction of sewers in watersheds, etc., are paid for from the proceeds of bond issues. The total force employed by the department is now about 2,200, or nearly double the largest force employed by the board in the year of its greatest activity.

The division of the department, having its headquarters in Kingston, has charge of the upkeep and operation of all structures, aqueducts, reservoirs and land connected with New York's water supply in Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, and Ulster counties, and within a short time its activities will be extended to cover Schoharie, Delaware and Greene counties as well. The total force in the division is about 240, of which 75 are employed west of the Hudson river.

Main Operating Problem.

Our main operating problem is to keep Kensico reservoir (the large storage reservoir north of White Plains) full, and we regulate on this basis, changing draft from one basin to the other as the quality of water or other conditions dictate. At present the aqueduct is running full and carrying 825,000,000 gallons, a rate which was exceeded by about 35,000,000 gallons two years ago. Slight conditions of fouling are responsible for this reduction in capacity. We are now experimenting with methods which will eliminate this fouling and enable us to always maintain capacity at a maximum.

We have a force of inspectors and laborers engaged on general sanitation work in the watershed. Each inspector is assigned to a district and his duties are to see that the department rules and regulations for protecting the supply from contamination are reasonably well complied with, to report new construction to the end that proper disposal of wastes be secured, and in general to seek the good will of the people in matters of sanitation. During the summer a force of laborers is constantly engaged in improving sanitary conditions. Plans have been prepared for a sewerage system in Pine Hill to be built and operated at the expense of the City of New York.

Flood Increased Turbidity.

Mr. Wheeler described in some detail the various processes for purifying the water, use of chemicals to hasten sedimentations, etc., and said that the great problem now was overcoming turbidity of the water from the Schoharie. Normal turbidity is usually not above 5. Turbidity in the reservoir now ranges from 10 to 25. The November flood raised it to from 100 to 200. The cost of treatment is now $1,200 daily and has exceeded $2,000 daily.

Much might be said concerning repairs to the marginal highways. This is a kind of work which properly has no place in a water works operating proposition. However, it was wished on us, and we have tried to do it well. When you recall that these roads were built between 12 to 15 years ago you must agree that they were well built originally and have been well maintained since. We expect them to last several years longer, and during the coming season will renew the seal coat between Stony Hollow and Ashokan railroad station on the north side and for a considerable distance along the south side.

Questions and Answers.

From time to time people ask me various questions about New York's water supply. The commonest have been the following, to which I will give brief answers:

1. Will water ever again go over the Ashokan spillway? Sometimes this question is varied, and really put in the form of a statement to the effect that applicants for information does not ever again expect to see it go over again.

Now you may recall that there were many many rumors who prophesied years ago that the reservoir would never be filled. These prophets were wrong, and I fully expect that most if not all the very old people who are concerned with or interested in the matter will live to see water go over the spillway again. Summing up all the data and records having a bearing on this, we find that the chances favor the reservoirs filling before June first of this year. Of course, everything depends on the rainfall, etc. Even with full reservoirs we may not allow water to run over the spillway.

2. How much water is used daily by New York city?

About 840,000,000 gallons, of which 45,000,000 gallons are supplied by private water companies, the rest by the municipal system. The Catskill system supplies about 540,000,000 gallons, the Croton about 230,000,000, the remainder coming from plants on State and Long Islands. The maximum consumption recorded exceeded 1,000,000,000 gallons, and occurred on a cold winter day.

3. What is the capacity of Shandaken tunnel?

Maximum, with a full reservoir about 665,000,000 gallons.

4. Does the city of New York prohibit hunting on the Ashokan reservoir property?

Hunting is prohibited under the Conservation law, which has wisely set aside property acquired for water supply purposes as game refuges.

5. What are the rules relative to fishing?

Fishing is allowed from shore or from boats without permits, but is prohibited through the ice under the Conservation law for the reason that both basins are inhabited by trout. Permits are required to maintain boats on the reservoir, but few want boats there. Last year only 18 permits were issued.

6. Is it permissible to enter the city property to gather fruit or nuts?

This is not permissible under the department rules and regulations. Anyway, there is no fruit.

7. What is the function of the Ashokan aerator?

To release gases that form in the reservoir and free the water from odors caused by the pressure of these gases.

8. When will New York city need more water and where will it be obtained?

Within 10 years, the Delaware river is being considered but consent of Pennsylvania and New Jersey is required. The Great Lakes are not high enough. Lake George may be high enough, but while spoken of as "inexhaustible," is it?

In answer to other questions Mr. Wheeler stated that there was no evidence of loss from the Ashokan reservoir by seepage. The reservoir had been low because water was drawn out faster than it ran in. Catskill water is preferable because of the greater pressure at which it is delivered in the city. The Glendon dam is not in danger. There was a slight settling of one wing.

MONUMENT ERECTED TO STEAMBOAT FITCH

Bardonia, Ky., March 10 (AP).—John Fitch, disputed inventor of the steamboat, has been honored.

After resting for more than a century in the obscurity of the Old Bardonia cemetery, his body has been transferred to the court square and above it erected an imposing monument.

Fitch, born at East Windsor, Conn., January 21, 1742, is said to have committed suicide here, July 2, 1798. There was much discussion in the early part of the nineteenth century as to whether he was the original inventor of the steamboat, but in 1817 a committee of the New York legislature declared Robert Fulton's steamboat was "in substance the invention patented by John Fitch in 1791."

Congress also has given Fitch recognition as the inventor and made the appropriation with which to erect the monument.

At the age of seventeen, Fitch went to sea. Later he turned to working as a clocksmith and then became a silversmith. During the Revolutionary war, he served as a gunsmith in the American army.

His first model steamboat was completed at Warminster, Pa., in 1785. Faced with discouragement and neglect, he labored on and in 1787 his first steamboat made a successful trial trip at Philadelphia on the Delaware. Deserted by friends and backers, Fitch went to France in 1793 to build a steamboat, but the Revolution interfered and he had to work his passage back to America.

The price of hogs usually has little effect on the price of their meat.

To Those Who Suffer Stomach Distress, Gas and Indigestion

DEDRICK'S DRUG STORE MAKES THIS OFFER

Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

The way has been found to combine Pepsin with other corrective stomach agents so that it will do the most good in the shortest possible time.

Why bother with slow actors, since one tablespoonful of this efficient and pleasant "liquid" remedy usually causes gas, bloating, heartburn, and other upset condition of the stomach, when due to excesses or faulty elimination to speedily vanish.

And why should any man or woman suffer another hour with indigestion, or annoying stomach misery from such causes when the remedy that acts almost instantly can be easily procured?

But there is more to say about this remarkable remedy—something that will interest thousands of despondent people.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress of this sort but is compounded of a queer stubborn indigestion or dyspepsia and put an end to distressing, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and despondency when these distressing troubles are caused by stomach disturbance of the kind mentioned.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is pleasant to take, has a deliciously refreshing taste and after it has helped to put your stomach in a clean and healthy condition, just notice how much better you look and feel. For best results, correct stomach disorders by excesses or faulty elimination the supremely good remedy that Dedrick's Drug Store and drug stores everywhere guarantee is a fine upbuilding agent that causes you to work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.

ESSEX is a SUPER-SIX

And it differs from all other "Sixes"—not by little margins—but bold, vivid advantages that instantly stand out from all comparison.

Here is 50 miles an hour all day long, with ease to car and comfort to passengers. (Yet that is far below its maximum speed.)

Here is size, generous passenger room, simple, positive controls. No car of any price excels its easy riding qualities.

Here is economy, engineered not only to savings in fuel and oil, but particularly to freedom from early depreciation, and to lowest maintenance costs.

There are four new bodies on the Essex Super-Six chassis—beautiful, smart in line, luxurious in upholstery and appointment. They are the greatest and deservedly most popular values Essex ever built.

Girl Attacked In Poughkeepsie

Attacked by a strange man at her gate shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, Miss Margaret Peter, 20 years old, of 16 Belknap street, Poughkeepsie, pretty telephone operator, battled her giant assailant for five minutes until her screams were heard. Then she fainted and early today was in a serious condition from shock, bruises and blows.

Less than fifteen minutes after the attack George Cahill, 24 years old, a motor bus driver for the Central New England railroad, was arrested charged with second degree assault. He was found cowering under an alley doorway in Harris street, by a dragnet of police and indignant neighbors. He is a foot two inches tall and weighs 225 pounds.

Local Death Record

Caroline Engelhart, wife of Joseph Engelhart, died in this city today. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Sarah E. Ferro died at her home near Olive Bridge Wednesday, March 9, aged 57 years. Funeral at the Tongore Church Saturday at 3 p. m. Interment in Tongore Cemetery.

Harvey Purcell died at his home near Minnewaska on Wednesday, March 9, aged 76 years. Funeral services at the Methodist Church at Kerhonkson Saturday at 10:30 a. m. Interment in Pine Bush Cemetery.

Peter J. Barnhart of Leibhardt died at the Veterans' Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, Wednesday, March 9, aged 14 years. Funeral from the home of his father, Vernon Barnhart of Leibhardt, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Pine Bush Cemetery.

Santo Caputo died in this city this morning, aged 46 years. Funeral services from the late residence, No. 117 East Union street, Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock, where a solemn requiem Mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Ernest R. son of Ann Ryan and late Conrad Kline, died at Jersey City Tuesday, March 8. Funeral from the residence of his mother at Fairview on Friday, at 10:30 a. m. thence to St. Peter's Church where a solemn requiem Mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, this city, on the arrival of the 2:15 West Shore train.

The funeral of Mrs. Carrie A. Tolson was held Wednesday afternoon from the late residence, No. 181 Washington avenue, and was largely attended. The funeral services were profuse and beautiful. The Rev. S. H. Watkins, acting rector of St. John's Church, of which Mrs. Tolson had long been an active member, officiated. Interment was made in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Mrs. Olive Payne, said to be the oldest woman in Dutchess county, was buried on Wednesday afternoon from the home of her niece, Mrs. James K. Hester of Rhinecliff, with whom she made her home for over 20 years. "Aunt Olive," as she was affectionately known, would have celebrated her one hundred and first birthday next August and until the ailments incident to old age confined her to her home. She was an active church worker in Methodist Episcopal circles.

John Meyer of 241 Hasbrouck avenue died suddenly at his home Wednesday due to a hemorrhage. Mr. Meyer was about the house as usual when he was stricken. He was a son of the late Ferdinand and Elizabeth Meyer. For many years he conducted a barber shop on Hasbrouck avenue and in later years succeeded his father in business. Several years ago he retired and had been living quietly at his home ever since. The deceased is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Madeline Dahlman, Mrs. Mary Wolf and Cornelia at home, and one brother, Fred Meyer of Cleveland, Ohio. He was a member of Webster Hose Company, No. 6. Funeral from the mortuary chapel of Thomas J. Wolf, 20 Broadway, on Monday at 2:45 a. m. and at St. Peter's Church at 3:30 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery.

Lewis Low, son of the late William Low, a street sprinkler for years, who resided at 43 Clinton avenue, died at Hamilton, Pa., Wednesday morning. He had been engaged in the bakery business there for some time. Deceased, who was a brother of the late Marcellus Low of Kingston, was well known in Kingston. At age about 25 years ago he was in the livery business with George Lowly at Broadway and Field Court, and later was in the hotel business in Hamilton. He was a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., and Robert W. Kearney, secretary of the lodge was notified by the secretary of the Hamilton lodge at Hamilton, Pa., of Mr. Low's death. The remains will be brought to this city for funeral services and interment by John F. Hasbrouck who has charge of the Low estate, and who went to Hamilton Wednesday evening. Mr. Low was a life member of Wiltwyck Hose Company.

Charming new sports frocks are made of two materials. Dorothy Sebastian, the motion-picture actress, wears this frock with a skirt of brown and tan stripes and a blouse of tan. Girdle, cuffs, collar and pocket trim are of the stripes.

"Black Attitude" Smart, Says Fashion Writer

"The smart eccentricity of the present season is black, carried to its dismal limit. It is now being carried to a so far unknown extremity. It produces an intensely dramatic effect, which no amount of color can surpass. 'Black hair, real or dyed, a white face, eyes visibly made up and scarlet lips, are sticking with the black gowns, perfectly plain and supermodern in cut, which many women seem to wear morning, noon and night. 'Eccentric black should always be low in neck and short in skirt, ultra-fashionable in style and worn with flesh hose and very high-heeled sandals. Uncut emeralds, unrelieved by diamonds, are especially effective on dull black, while ropes of pearls are entirely out of the picture. 'Not to change one's style of dress from one year to another is one of the characteristics of 'black attitude.' Black crepe is worn in the morning and black crepe in the evening; the difference is imperceptible."

Baron de Meyer, who is associated with the Paris bureau of Harper's Bazar, says the afternoon gown is passing out in favor of the sports costume and is now "hardly considered chic even in the afternoon. Sport clothes are smart at all times—are considered suitable for almost all occasions; at tea, for instance, at the Ritz."

Subtle Coloring Used in Chic Tone Effects

Midwestern fashions may be said to act as guide-posts to future modes. Especially is this true of models designed for the South, for as everyone knows a fashion that establishes itself at any one of the smart resorts is pretty sure to have a fairly long life. It usually lasts through the summer. Simplicity, albeit it is simplicity of the most sophisticated degree, is the salient point of interest in these new fashions. Colors are delightfully subtle, with much importance attached to certain lighter tones of blue and green as well as a soft, flattering rose tint. Much white will be worn in the South this season as well as new beige tones and an occasional shade of light gray. These latter colors with few exceptions appear in two or three-toned effects.

Fine hemstitching and ladder work as well as gaggoting are forms of needlework which contribute the exquisite touch that distinguishes these new frocks. Both the one and the two-piece models are shown and the choice is purely a matter of individual preference. Another decorative detail in the use of complicated platings.

Costs of Suede Cloth Serviceable, Stylish

Costs of suede cloth combined with matching fur are extremely chic. A dark-colored suede coat, for instance, is covered so completely with more fur trimming that only a three-inch border of the suede fabric outlines collar, cuffs, fronts and hemline. Another cloth and suede model combines a blouse of brown caracul with sleeves and skirt of brown suede cloth.

Old Bows in New Places
The bow of ribbon has always been a universal medium of expression since the days of the crumens. It has never gone out of fashion but it has wandered considerably for all that. Its latest resting place is on the backs of patent leather evening pumps. Huge wide bows are attached at the back of each heel.

Felt Berets Use Two Shades
Berets, dove-dyeing models, feature two tones of felt in sharply contrasted colors. The darker tone rests against the hair. These are hats particularly adapted to short, close cut hair.

Foremost Virtue

A "GOOD AGE"

It is understood that Mr. Lowden of Illinois wants to be nominated for President by the Republicans, but the objection is raised that he is 66 years old. It is understood that Senator Reed of Missouri wants to be nominated for President by the Democrats, but the objection is raised that he is 65 years old. In either case, if election followed, the age of 70 would be passed before the end of the first term as President, and there is wide popular sentiment in favor of putting younger and stronger men in so exacting, not to say "killing," an office as that of our Chief Executive. Of course the objection seems absurd to Mr. Lowden and to Senator Reed, who regard themselves, and no doubt are, still in their prime. But those who object are thinking of the future rather than of the present.

That there are exceptional men perfectly capable of the strain of the Presidential office at 70 years of age is manifest. Some men are more alert and vigorous at that age than others twenty years younger. In many cases it is the health and equipment of the individual rather than the mere number of his years that counts. Only the other day a very spry lady of 76 summers, looking back over 36 years of her life, brightly and no doubt with good reason remarked that "sixty is a good age."

ORGANIZED TO DODGE TAXES.

The Automobile Club of Ulster County has sent out copies from a statement by the State Association which is printed in another column, aodge-podge of figures and alleged arguments against any increase in the tax on automobiles that is full of errors and misrepresentations. Whether this is by design or caused by ignorance and stupidity it is impossible to determine.

For instance, there is the statement that "the average rate of increase in motor vehicle fees during the past three years has been 10 per cent." There has been no increase in the rate of motor vehicle fees during the past three years. There has been an increase in receipts from this source, due to the increased number of motor vehicles, which is a quite different thing from the statement made by the Automobile Club officials.

In another paragraph these officials claim that "we" have "given" the counties over $7,000,000, which is another example of the way the professional organizer and hat passer's mind works when putting up an alleged argument in an effort to justify his existence.

No account is taken of the millions borrowed on the credit of the state and expended on road construction, millions that must eventually be repaid by taxation and on which interest is now being paid. The state needs the money to meet this enormous debt and the interest charges on it. The strongest advocates of the incurring of this debt were the automobile club officials who are now the strongest opponents of any measure requiring that a just share of taxation be imposed on motor vehicles.

THE CHICAGO SPIRIT.

The story is told of an original settler of Chicago who years ago recalled a public meeting, when the prairie town numbered 5,000 souls, where one of its boasters declared that some of those present would live to see a population of 100,000—"and we all laughed because we knew he was talking nonsense." In 1923, after it had become America's second city in population, Chicago, with characteristic enterprise, celebrated the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America with a great world's fair which was a marvel for its time, the opening being delayed two years after the proper date in order that preparation might be made complete. Now a Chicago that claims a population of four millions is preparing for another world's fair in 1933 in celebration of the centennial of the city's settlement. With such a thing as this announcement to read that, although the centennial date is almost at hand, Chicago has already spent $24,000,000 for city buildings, museums, a fine arts building, an aquarium and the incidental park development.

What a contrast between such forward enterprise and the dilatory methods of Philadelphia, which was not even able to decide whether to celebrate its sesquicentennial last year until within a few months of its opening, with deplorable unreadiness and other calamitous results. Chicago not only knows the proper method when it has a big enterprise in view but is alertly aware of its responsibilities. The great "queen city of the West" may be afflicted with "rotten" politics, may have its underworld of criminals and its political grafters, its sections that are appalling to look at as well as fearsome to live in, but it has, and has had from the beginning, even more than its share of the invincible spirit of American enterprise.

WHY YOUR STOMACH JUICE IS ACID.

I was speaking last month about how the acid juice of the stomach has the power to destroy organisms which otherwise would reach the intestine, and give more or less trouble there.

I mentioned the fact that Prof. Lloyd Arnold of Chicago has stated that foods deficient in vitamins reached the intestines with organisms in them because the acid stomach juice failed to do its work on foods deficient in vitamins. Also that infections of eye, ear, nose, throat, or elsewhere likewise interfere with the acid formation in the stomach and permit these organisms to ascend higher in intestine.

And now Dr. Arnold and a colleague have given us further facts. They state that organisms introduced into normal empty stomachs never get far down the intestine because they are destroyed by the acid secretion of the stomach.

However, if these organisms are put in milk which is made very alkaline by baking soda or other alkali, then these organisms go right down the entire length of the small intestine, and must therefore interfere with digestion and absorption.

If, however, the organisms are given in an acid milk they seldom get down to end of small intestine, and if they do, it is in very small quantities.

This proves his previous statement that the mechanism of the small intestine which destroys organisms, depends for its strength upon the presence of the acid stomach secretion or other acid.

What does this mean?

That most of us need never think about the matter at all, because the ordinary every day healthy stomach secretes enough acid juice to render these organisms harmless.

But you can readily see that if the stomach juice is not strong enough, then material, that is neutral or alkaline, enters the intestine loaded with these organisms, and trouble results.

This is the reason then that your doctor often wants to investigate your stomach juice by means of the test meal of bread and weak tea. Removing this at the end of an hour by means of a pump, he is able to find out just what percentage of acid is in your stomach juice. It is a common sense procedure when you think it over.

Mountain Lion Slain

Mayhill, N. M.—George Russell, United States forest ranger, went to the aid of a sheep herder upon his ranch near here the other day and killed a mountain lion which had been slaughtering sheep on a wholesale scale.

One night a small band of Mr. Russell's sheep was left on the range and the next morning 16 of them were found dead, bitten through the neck by a wild animal.

A few nights later a herd of 180 goats with about 100 kids were left on the range and the result was 11 grown goats and 45 young kids were killed, their bodies lying along the hill for a distance of 200 yards or more, and not a carcass had been touched save for the attack on the throat.

Within a short time the Mexican sheep herder discovered that it was a mountain lion killing the sheep. The animal was so bold that the cries of the herder did not drive him away. Mr. Russell says he joined forces with the herder and on the third night the lion was killed, and no further losses were experienced.

QUEER QUIRKS in HUMAN DESTINY

By HARRY R. CALKINS

Lincoln's Lucky Purchase

THE purchase of a barrel that he did not need and did not want marked a significant turning point in the life of Abraham Lincoln.

One day while Lincoln was still engaged in the humdrum business of running a store in New Salem, Ill., a traveler bound west in a covered wagon, stopped and offered to sell him a barrel for half a dollar. Lincoln had no occasion for the barrel but his good nature and kindness influenced him to agree.

When he came to empty rubble out of the barrel, the young storekeeper found a treasure at the bottom—Blackstone's "Commentaries on the Laws of England" and other books. The elation of a youth who had frequently trudged miles through the woods to borrow a book—any kind of a book—may well be imagined when the one book above all others that he desired was thus miraculously dropped into his hands.

Lincoln had considered studying law. The course had been suggested to him by his friend, Squire Bowling Green, and the father of Ann Rutledge had praised his gifts as a public speaker. Now he took up the study seriously. Less than two years later, Lincoln, at the age of twenty-five, was a member of the Illinois legislature, sitting at Vandalia. That was in 1834. In 1837 he moved to Springfield to become the law partner of J. T. Stuart. When Stuart was elected to Congress, Lincoln handled the law business and also looked after the political fences of his distinguished preceptor. Blackstone's learned discussions now assumed new meaning. Applying himself to the study of men and events as well as books, the young lawyer launched into the politics of the West to prepare himself for the mighty task fate had in store for his future. The contents of the old barrel had pointed unerringly toward his destiny.

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH.

By W. L. Gordon.

Words often misused: Don't say "a quantity of oranges rolled across the floor." Say "number of." Use "number" to express that which can be counted.

Often mispronounced: phonetic. Pronounce fo-net-ik, o as in "no," e as in "net," i as in "it," accent on second syllable.

Often misspelled: Fahrenheit. Synonyms: debility, languor, infirmity, lassitude, weakness, impotence.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: Taciturnity: habitual silence. "Then his face became composed to its usual taciturnity."

Missouri and Kansas Cools Let Hair Grow

Kansas City, Mo.—Cools at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, and the University of Missouri, Columbia, seem to be competing in letting the higher popular locks grow longer again.

Cools at both institutions started to let their hair grow, much to the disgust of traditional artists in both towns.

A recent check-up on the Missouri campus revealed that 60 per cent of the girls either had long hair or were "expecting to have in the near future."

In Kansas the percentage is slightly larger, and specimens of long-haired beauties are getting new colors daily.

Japan to Resume Campaign in 1928

Death - Census - Political Plans to Go Aways This Year, With Fortification of Election.

Tokyo, March 10. (P)—Japanese political plans and plots which went into this spring owing to the death of the Emperor and the election of financial interests that an election this year would be an economic mistake, are now being re-examined for 1928.

Holding the regular four-year national election in May of next year will accord with the provisions of the Constitution and give 9,000,000 more new voters the opportunity to cast their first ballots under the new manhood suffrage law. An entirely new Diet will be elected.

Premier Wakatsuki, head of the cabinet or government party, had all his plans for a dissolution of the present Diet and for an election in spring. It was thought that the death of Emperor Yoshihito would not prevent the dissolution, but money is necessary for an election in Japan as in any other country. When the great business and financial interests of the Empire estimated it would cost more than $1,000,000 it was decided that a new election on top of this huge expense could not be borne by the country.

The leaders of the Seiyukai and Shinto opposition parties, were also ready and prepared for the dissolution and new election. The matter had gone so far as the introduction in the Diet of a vote of no-confidence which, ordinarily, would have meant instant dissolution. But the Premier prorogued instead of dissolving, and during the interim, the "men behind" stepped in and ordered peace and inactivity for the present session. Consequently, the big guns were silenced and it is probable the Diet will adjourn May 25 without a ripple.

Rheumatism

Must Get Quick Relief or Money Back, Says Dedrick's Drug Store.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenbur's, the enemy of rheumatism, does not show the way to ease the agony, help reduce swollen limbs and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenbur's has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the sufferer was almost helpless.

Druggists everywhere guarantee it is above in every instance.

Motorman 237 Thanks Tanlac

Father Escapes From Serious Condition Caused by Nervousness, Gastritis, Stomach Liver, Stomach and Bowel Disorders.

Joe W. Elmer, 68 Columbia St., Wica, N. Y., recently said: "For three or four years, my condition was such that I could not work."

"Due to irregular hours for eating my stomach became upset. For 2 years I suffered from indigestion. Grief from my stomach pressed against my heart. The pain moment came when I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. I had blinding, splitting headaches caused by the poison that filled my clogged system, all due to a sluggish liver. I forced food into my stomach and was tormented by sharp pains. Something had to be done! I had neither energy nor ambition."

"After reading about Tanlac I began taking it. This tonic cleared out my system, toned up my liver. I got everything without a sign of trouble. I was like a child. I feel stronger and better than in many years. Thanks to Tanlac."

Tanlac, nature's own remedy made from roots, herbs and herbs, is sold by druggists. Over 22 million bottles sold.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

A MARY GRAHAM BONNER

TURTLES

It had been a very hot day, and both Nick and Nancy told Daddy that they did not know when they had felt the heat so intense.

"Well, the turtles felt the heat, too, today," said Daddy.

"They lay around on the front piazzas of their homes, half asleep, and half awake, grumbling quite a bit."

"I didn't know turtles had front piazzas to their homes," said Nancy.

"Dear me, yes!" replied Daddy.

"They are very fortunate, too, because they do not just own one front piazza, but they own several."

"You see, each turtle picks out three logs or three snags, or possibly one log and two snags, and he announces to the other turtles that those are his front piazzas."

"They are not at all selfish about them, for any of the other turtles can make use of them whether they own them or not."

"Today was so hot that all the front piazzas were being occupied."

"There was Mrs. Black Mud Turtle on her very own porch with Mrs. Hard-Shell Turtle."

"Mrs. Hard-Shell Turtle, you see, had just enough energy to get over to Mrs. Black Mud Turtle's porch, for she had many things she wanted to talk to her about."

"There was the turtles' ball, which was to come off the next week, and she wanted Mrs. Black Mud Turtle's opinion as to what she would wear and what all the little turtles would wear."

"You know they began talking about the costumes they would have to get ready, and they became sleepier and sleepier."

"They blinked their eyes very hard and tried with might and main to keep awake."

"Mrs. Black Mud Turtle didn't want to go to sleep, as she thought it would be so very rude when Mrs. Hard-Shell Turtle had come to call on her."

"Mrs. Hard-Shell Turtle felt that if she went to sleep it would be a terrible thing."

"But they both felt so terribly sleepy and they both wished the other would go to sleep."

"All the front piazzas were occupied."

"er would go to sleep so the rudeness would be some one's else."

"They kept on dreamily talking."

"Yes, my dear," Mrs. Black Mud Turtle would say, "I think that would be lovely."

"And Mrs. Hard-Shell Turtle would answer, just managing to swallow a yawn."

"It is so sweet of you to take an interest."

"They kept this up some time, their voices getting lower and lower, and finally Mrs. Black Mud Turtle was fast asleep, and Mrs. Hard-Shell Turtle was sleeping just as soundly."

"There they slept all day, and when they woke up this evening neither of them knew who had gone to sleep first, so both laughed in their turtle way and said:

"Wasn't it a hot day?"

To prove the ability of this Studebaker Custom Sedan, get behind the wheel yourself. Feel the power of its quiet L-head motor—most powerful in any car of its size and weight in the world. See how slowly you can idle along in high gear smoothly it accelerates, how lightning-quick it is on the pick-up, how easily it shoots through traffic, soars up steep hills and speeds across swift down the free stretches.

Luxury for Your Wife

Then turn the wheel over to your wife. Let her learn what careful driving really means—the pleasure that comes from finger-tip response in steering—the ease of gear-shifting—the feather-light pressure on the positively-acting four-wheel brakes. And she will like the complete custom luxury of its richly upholstered, roomy interior.

Fixed Steel Assures Safety

This smart-looking Studebaker steel body saves gasoline and tires because it's lighter than wood—safer because it permits wider visibility than wood—safer also because it has been fused by electricity into a practically indestructible unit of steel—welded, not riveted—and longer-lived because steel wears while wood wears out.

Pressman tells how newspaper workers keep fit

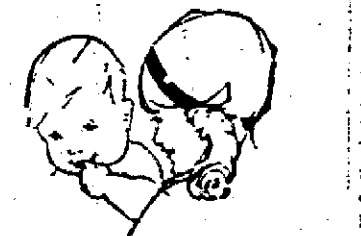

The pressman working in a newspaper office at Dorchester, Mass., used to have great trouble with rheumatism and stiffness owing to frequent sudden draughts of cold air when the doors were opened to take in rolls of paper.

One of their number began using Sloan's Liniment and now they all chip in to keep Sloan's always on hand for the entire shop.

"After my day's work I rub a little Sloan's Liniment on my back and legs. It never fails."

Sloan's gives real help because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause.

Apply gently, without rubbing. Right away you feel the comfortable, glowing warmth as the new blood is brought to the sore spots, and soon the aching stops. Get a bottle today. All drugstores—35 cents.

TELLS OF EARLY LIFE ON PLAINS*Old Texas Ranger Helped Bury Victims of Comanche Indian Massacre

Tahoka, Texas.—"You're the bravest kid I ever saw," an officer in the Union army once told I. P. Metcalf, better known locally as "Uncle Ike."

"I'm not brave; I've just got too damned much pride to be a coward," the then youthful fighter quickly retorted.

It was probably that "pride" he spoke about while doing service in the Civil war that has marked "Uncle Ike" as a successful fighter, and "Uncle Ike," Civil war veteran, ex-Indian fighter and former member of the Texas Rangers, has led a quiet life as "marring squire" of Tahoka for the last few years.

"Uncle Ike" Metcalf took his first step onto the fertile plains of Texas in 1865 as one of a detachment of Texas Rangers. Entering Lynn county, or what is now called Lynn county, from the southeast, the rangers marched northward to the Tahoka springs, on the west side of Tahoka lake, about nine miles northeast of the present town of Tahoka, where they pitched camp and spent ten days.

Tells of Trip to Plains.

Metcalf had been stationed at Camp Cooper, six miles above Fort Griffin on the Clear Fork branch of the Brazos, as a member of the Second Texas Rangers. The occasion of his first trip to the plains he says was this:

"Along in the summer of '68 about 60 negro soldiers, either of the Sixth or Tenth cavalry, I don't remember which, from Fort Concho, where San Angelo now stands, had been sent to the plains under the command of a Lieutenant Gilbert on the trail of a bunch of Indians who had been stealing horses from outlying ranches. As the days went by, fear for the safety of the negroes grew. No word was heard from them. Then, one day in August, orders were received at Camp Cooper for the 36 Texas Rangers stationed there to start a search for the negro troopers.

Settlements Near Forts.

"The only settlements in western Texas in those days were centered around Fort Griffin, Fort Concho, Del Norte, where El Paso now stands, and a few other such forts. Indians in Oklahoma were allowed to leave reservations and journey into the western part of Texas to hunt the buffalo that grazed the plains in herds of from a hundred to several thousand head.

Frequently these Indians, not content with killing buffalo alone, raided scattering and isolated ranches, way-laid travelers, and even at times ventured down into Comanche, Brown, Erath, and other central west Texas counties.

"It took a brave group of men to start a trip across the plains facing the probability of meeting up with hostile Indians, the scarcity of watering places and the danger of becoming lost and running out of food, to say nothing of the lousiness of such a trip.

All Eager to Go.

"But when the orders came the whole bunch was ready to go. Captain Brown of Erath county was to be in command. While we were getting ready to break camp and to start the trip that was to cover hundreds of miles that would take weeks to make a mail carrier of the Dallas-Weatherford-Fort Griffin-Fort Davis-Fort 'Adobe' Del Norte line rode in and told us of a terrible massacre of a bunch of California immigrants committed by a band of Comanche Indians, that had taken place near the head of Devil's river, between the present town of Odessa and Concho.

"As this would not be much out of our way we decided to go by way of the scene. We arrived at the head of the river some time later, which was known as Devil's Creek springs, and found that the immigrants had apparently camped there several days. Six miles northwest of there we found the most hideous sight I ever saw. Thirty-six people had been slaughtered, stripped of their clothing, and cut to pieces. Not one white man lived to tell the story of how it all occurred, but the story was silently told in the scene we saw.

Mark of Comanches' Work.

"We knew the Comanches had done the work, as the Comanches and Tonkawas were the only Indians that roamed in west Texas at that time. I never knew of a Tonkawa tribe harming white people, but the Comanches were always into mischief.

"The Indians probably found the immigrants camped at the springs and waited for a good chance to attack them. When the latter got out from under cover and on the plains the Indians sped down on them unawares and wiped out the entire group.

"Nothing was left undone. They ransacked and undressed their victims, took their valuables, cut their throats and stomachs open, scalped them, and left their bodies on the open prairie. The wagons were burned where they stood, and their positions showed that little light had been made, for if they had the wagons would have been razed. As the dead bodies of 36 men, women and children, three dead mules, and one dead horse, and a few scattering feathers from moccasins, were all we found. The number of hoof prints showed that the tribe of Indians had been a large one.

is almost too awful to tell. We arrived probably ten days after the massacre had taken place. Graves were dug by the sides of the dead about two and one-half feet deep. One man would do the digging while another would hold up a shovel of burning tar near him to kill the odor. When one man got tired digging he exchanged places with the tar burner. It took us two days to bury them."

With this gruesome task accomplished, the rangers doubled back to Big Spring, near which were the Kilpatrick and Coffee ranches, the nearest outposts to the plains country. From there they journeyed to Wet Tocco creek, which runs through Borden county, then to Moore's Draw, 20 miles southeast of the present town of Tahoka, and then to Tahoka lake.

"We stayed at Tahoka lake for about ten days," Uncle Ike says, "waiting and watching for the lost negroes, but never saw or heard of them. We got tired staying there and moved to the Yellow Horse canyon and then to the Blanco canyon. While going down the Blanco we met up with a bunch of Comanches and had a little skirmish. One or two of our men were wounded and we killed 12 or 13 Indians. I don't remember which. From there we returned to our old camp.

"Were we glad to get back? Man, civilization looked good to us."

But, "Uncle Ike" Metcalf had received the thrill that accompanies one in coming on the great, stretching plains of western Texas, and as civilization moved westward he settled in Lynn county and took up the more peaceful position of "marring squire." Since then he has married more couples than any other man living in the plains or Panhandle country.

Kill Guinea Pigs in Lethal Gas Chamber

Portland, Ore.—Hydrocyanic lethal gas that is being used to execute murderers in the state of Nevada, claimed the lives of two guinea pigs and two rabbits in tests which the Portland fire bureau is conducting to determine the exact nature of the effects by hydrocyanic gas poisoning.

The little animals came to their death in such a quick and painless manner as would tend to support the contention of Nevada authorities that death by lethal gas is the most humane method known of killing a living creature. A group of firemen and medical students decided after they had seen the pigs and rabbits placed in a tank filled with the lethal, tasteless and practically odorless gas.

Two breaths of the lethal gas are said to be sufficient instantly to kill a man. The two guinea pigs were the first to die. No change in the action of the animals was noticed for two or three minutes, the gas having failed to displace the fresh air in the tank. Presently, however, a slight twitching of their bodies was noticed, followed by a short period of pronounced gasping. In another moment they had fallen over, with involuntary convulsions reaching their only action.

FRENCH, ITALIAN DISHES

The musical names given some of our homely dishes by our foreign cousins make them so interesting that they taste better because of them. Old-fashioned mush from corn meal is called polenta. Could it possibly taste as common as mush? On Friday they serve baccala, which is just our ordinary cod fish, but so disguised that its best friend would hardly recognize it.

Baccala.—Preheat a pound and a half of codfish by soaking over night. Cut into serving sized pieces and fry ten minutes in a little olive oil. For the sauce add a little olive oil to the saucepan with a clove of garlic, one chopped onion, one sliced green pepper, one bay leaf and two cloves; cook five minutes, then add a small piece of butter, one-half pint of tomatoes, salt and pepper. Put into the fish and cover closely, let simmer two hours, adding water as the moisture dries out. Serve with hot corn meal mush.

Reguene.—Few people like kidneys, for they are so often poorly prepared. Split and cut away all the white in a veal or beef kidney, cut the kidneys into cubes and drop them into boiling water; cook one minute. As they turn white, drain and place in a frying pan and cook in olive oil fifteen minutes. Now put them into a casserole and cover with a sauce like the one used for baccala, with the addition of more garlic. Cover and cook slowly for several hours. Serve with rice or polenta.

Sheep's Kidneys on Brochette.—Take six sheep's kidneys, cut through the center, remove the white veins and fat. Wash well, cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes, then wipe dry. Cut one-fourth of a pound of bacon into slices half the size of the kidney, place a piece of kidney on a skewer, then a piece of bacon and another piece of kidney. Place on a broiler, baste with fat and cook over a hot fire five minutes.

Scallop (Browned Veal).—Cook a thin slice of veal (pounded thin) in olive oil, season with salt and pepper; when nearly done add a tablespoonful of vinegar. Serve hot.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The First That Is Released at the Race or Above Given a Youthful Movement to the New Skirt.

Genoa, Italy.—In traveling about, a great many one-piece cloth dresses have been encountered that are pleated from below the hips, or even starting as low as the knees to be pleated. Coats also are frequently in this decidedly youthful silhouette. Usually the pleats spring out from under inverted seams or wide stitched straps of the fabric.

While pleating of all kinds is greatly in evidence, it appears to be the wide, released pleat that has made the greatest impression, possibly because it is one of the newer forms. It is not difficult to recall that when short skirts first took on a measure of fullness, it was by reason of very fine pleating, so fine, in fact, that the straight line was in no way disturbed.

Now there is a decided movement in skirts that usually springs out between the very smooth and tight hip-line and the knee. It results

Formal Wraps in Richest Velvets

New Models for Evening and Daytime Wear Possess Much Beauty.

Velvet is the answer to the question of evening wraps this season, asserts a fashion writer in the New York Times. Its appeal as the fabric of luxury and beauty for the more elaborate type of gown has inspired couturiers to create designs of much distinction for both daytime and evening wear, and the models that are now being received establish styles of compelling beauty. Velvet has been offered by prominent stylists for more than a year as the ideal material for handsome gowns, wraps and millinery, and now the stamp of approval has been put upon it by authoritative designers and its vogue is in full swing.

Advance models, received earlier than usual this season, reflect in general the feeling and tendency of the mode, with illustrations from all the best designers, both French and American. It is the day of originality, of the widest latitude in dress design as in all arts, and the styles in evening wraps express this tendency very definitely with a certain note of conservatism that adds to their dignity.

The new types of wrap, ample, graceful, ornate, are more attractively expressed in terms of velvet than in any other conceivable material. They are voluminous, comfortable, elegant—not garments merely, but really luxurious wraps that fittingly cover the more than usually beautiful evening gowns in the latest fashions. The latest models, the dolman and the loose raglan, are being done in velvet in all of the new colors, with the latest styles in trimming. These wide-sleeved patterns display to the best possible advantage the luster of the quality material, the beautiful embroidery that is seen on the handsome wraps and the intriguing fancies that are disclosed by the facings and linings.

The new waves in velvet are an achievement in the manufacture of dress fabric, lustrous, supple and silky, and light as goosehair. There is none of the traditional "stand alone" texture in the latest velvets, but a soft richness that lends itself to the graceful lines of the present style.

Dolman in the Spotlight.

An evening wrap brought out by an exclusive New York house is made of green-blue velvet that has a silvery sheen, the back, collar and wide dolman sleeves being embroidered in a large scroll pattern with heavy motifs in silver thread and cord. The wrap is lined with chiffon gauze in the shade of the wrap, with a delicate design in silver, and a two-inch band of silver ribbon is sewn just inside the edge. An interlining of featherweight wool is introduced and the wide collar and cuffs are of chinchilla fur. Silver, in embroidery, brand, ribbon and pavement, is shown on several of the French models in both black and colored velvet evening wraps from prominent designers. This touch of metal enhances the beauty and brings out the gentle quality of the material illustrated in many uncommonly lovely models.

The up-to-the-moment silhouette in evening wraps is the modern version of the dolman, bulky above the hips, wrapping tightly about the lower part of the body. Always, too, the belt or girdle defines the waistline, which continues to be at the hips and is fitted at the point of the clasp directly in front, contrasting to the wrap-around and side fastening of last year's fashion. In a particularly engaging model brought from Paris the material of the wrap is a patterned lame in silver and blue, the lining being blue velvet, revealing the usual order. A wide band of jeweled embroidery circles the upper part of the wide coat-like sleeve and holds the upper part of the back in a blouse effect below the waist. A collar of silver fox fur is contained in a wide band down each side of the front. Another wrap cut on the dolman lines has cape-like sleeves varying the regulation mode. This is made of fuchsia-colored velvet lined with chiffon of the same shade, with collar and white bands of chinchilla, which is distinctly fashionable this season. A unique and especially graceful model of orange-red velvet is a clever combination of the long dolman and cape with flowing sleeves and wide collar of orange fox fur. These are among the examples of color harmony in evening wraps with many other delightful models in the new shades.

Other fabrics than velvet are of course used for evening wraps. Lame is modish in the extreme, with a certain delicate touch. Silver lame is especially fashionable and some of the most striking wraps shown among the models imported from Paris are made of patterned lame in silver and blue, green, orchid or the most brilliant colors, the silver seeming to lend itself with charm to any and all tints.

One of the most attractive models is a wrap of silver lame made in the manner of a mantle, very full on the shoulders, hanging in voluminous folds, with sleeves that are formed by catching up long ends of the material in deep loops. The lining is white velvet and the trimming brown fox, made in a high collar and bands on the long lines of the sleeves. Silver tassels sewn on the points of the sleeve loops and at intervals down the front of the mantle add a fantastic touch. All of the Paris couturiers are doing interesting things in evening wraps. Madeleine Vionnet presents a model that is a sort of long wrap-around dolman fastened on one hip, with the edge cut in a point. This is a chic, youthful design made in black velvet with collar and bordered trimming of white fox.

Colors Are Attractive.

Colors displayed in evening wraps suggest a casket of jewels reflected in the ruby, garnet, tourmaline and coral; in sapphire, aquamarine and turquoise blue; in topaz and amber, emerald, jade and opal. Opalescent tints appear in the crystal and polka-dotted motifs of embroideries. Fringe and ostrich are much liked as trimming for some of the evening wraps in satin, lame and cut velvet, ostrich being quite the rage this season. This is illustrated most strikingly in the accessories of evening dress—the superb fans, boas, flower garlands, bags, wristlets and in many other articles from garters to collar. Ostrich boas and collars are shown in a great variety of colors and combination of colors. The popular ostrich collar in of one color, or two, or is variegated with a morning glory blossom, in stripes and streaks, or the feather is put on in sections of color. These, except when they are attached to a wrap, are worn with the daytime gown. Sumptuous long boas are fashionable for evening with the wrap-around coat of velvet or satin, or as the collar and shoulder trimming of the wrap. Ostrich fans have a rival in the stylish novelty fans made of stiff fursheen shapely in curving lines and dyed in all of the tints to match the evening gowns and wraps.

The most elaborate models have fur-trimmed collars or bands of fur, wide cuffs and deep border bands. Long, creating a stunning wrap of pale yellow velvet, bright with what appears to be a long cape having the fur-trimmed collar in about the hips, the fur lining in front, and a deep short collar of white fur for which narrow to the point of fastening at one side. The all-around blouse line in the treatment shown in many of the head-scarf evening wraps of whatever material. The cape carries on in a number of models varying somewhat the straight military cape, almost all of the models being of especially rich fabrics.

MRS. Wm. SCHRYUER,
93 JOHN ST.
Until my grocer told me that most women use Rinso, I used to take my wash all day long. Rinso is so safe, I can just wash my clothes in the safe Rinso suds for a few hours, and they're ready to be rinsed and hung out. There's no scrubbing and no fuss. The clothes turn out whiter and fresher than they ever did when I used bar soaps or washing powders. And it's so safe for the clothes! Washing them with Rinso saves the hands, too. I find, I've tried it so many times, that Rinso is just as much of a time-saver when it comes to washing dishes, linoleum, tiles, floors and sinks.

MRS. WILLIAM SCHRYUER,

Millions use Rinso. Thousands write us letters like this.

Imagine! Clothes soak whiter than you could rub them

THAT means you can discard your washboard for good. Why rub nice clothes threadbare against a metal board, anyway?

It means you can save yourself all hard work on washday. No steaming kitchen, no washboard hands.

For Rinso gets the wash whiter than ever—without scrubbing, without boiling—just by soaking!

Millions of women know it's not "too good to be true." All over the country weekly washes are being done this easy, "no-work" way.

Tests prove it's safe

Rinso is different from any laundry soap you've ever used. It doesn't make foamy soap bubbles, but suds into thick, cleansing, softening suds. It makes even the hardest water soft and soapy all through.

In these rich suds, dirt and stains float off so easily. The most soiled parts become snow-white with just a gentle touch between the fingers.

Actual tests prove Rinso completely safe. Contains no acids, bleaches or harmful chemicals. You could soak your finest corsets and linens in Rinso suds for weeks without weakening the fabrics.

Easy directions on package

Rinso is so economical. It's all you need on washday—no bar soap, chips, powders. And Rinso is not fluff; it's real granulated soap. Feel how heavy the package is. Try it next washday for a white wash! Just follow simple directions on package. Guaranteed by the makers of Rinso—Lear Bros. Co.

Auto Association Makes Statement

State Organization Claims It Has Made Progress in Fight Against Gas Tax and Change of Opinion Is Noticeable at Albany.

Albany, March 10.—Indications are that the New York State Automobile Association has made considerable progress in the last two weeks in its fight against the imposition of a gas tax by the present Legislature.

Whereas a few weeks ago it seemed to be a foregone conclusion that the 1927 Legislature would pass a gas tax, newspaper men and others who are close to the inner councils say that a change of opinion is noticeable on Capitol Hill.

Legislative leaders are digging deeply into financial affairs, seeking if possible to find other means of financing present legislative plans without a gas tax.

The New York State Automobile Association, continuing aggressively the fight it has started, today sent a bulletin to its 30 Clubs throughout the state analyzing the financial aspects of the state road building plans in relation to the proposed gas tax.

Present Appropriation Bills.

The present appropriation bill for highway purposes calls for $18,000,000 for maintenance and repair of state and county highways, including bridge construction and other special work, the State Automobile Association says.

Present appropriation bills set aside $6,000,000 for the state's share of federal aid roads and $3,000,000 for county aid. Another $2,380,000 is appropriated for the state's contribution to counties for improvement of highways and county roads, and $2,210,000 for the state's contribution to repair and improvements of town highways.

In addition, there are appropriations amounting to $2,000,000 for special construction in Nassau, Kings, Queens and Erie counties, making a grand total for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and contributions to town and county roads of $34,290,000.

Licenses Fee System Results.

The motorist through the present license fee system contributed $28,786,421.31 during the calendar year 1926. Of this amount $7,019,644.39 went back to the counties, $21,235,673.39 was turned into the general funds of the state. Thus, you will see, says the bulletin, that in addition to giving the counties over $7,000,000, the motorists of New York state paid for all repairs and maintenance of state roads and contributed liberally to new construction. We paid the $18,000,000 now asked for repairs and maintenance of state roads, and more than $3,000,000 extra.

The average rate of increase in motor vehicle fees during the past three years has been 13 per cent. Therefore, if we estimate a 10 per cent increase for 1927, it ought to be conservative. On the basis of a 10 per cent increase in receipts from motor vehicle fees during 1927, we will be paying the state between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 over the amount of money asked for repairs, maintenance and upkeep of state highways and other special purposes.

Calls Tax Extension.

We believe that if the motorists of the state maintain the highways after they are built, we do all that could be reasonably expected. However, we do not like about paying $6,000,000 over and above that figure. But when it comes to asking us to add another $18,000,000 or more of taxation which would make our total payments around $46,000,000, which is $12,000,000 more than all the money now appropriated for state highway construction, reconstruction, maintenance, federal, town and county aid, and special purposes, we feel that the motorist is being mulcted, imposed upon, treated unjustly, and that it is class legislation and class extortion.

Also, in estimating that the gasoline tax would raise only $18,000,000 we are being very conservative. For we are taking the figures of the proponents of gas tax legislation and we know they are inclined to minimize the estimated proceeds of this tax. We are all pretty generally agreed that if a gas tax is passed, the total revenue would be many millions more and that the amount of money raised from the gas tax, plus the present registration fees would be from 50 per cent to 100 per cent more than all the money used on state highways and for state aid to towns and counties.

If This Tax Hit Only the Millionaire.

Or just those people who are thoroughly prosperous today, it would put a different aspect on things.

Plumage Use Incidental.

The facts are that it would hit the working man and the great middle class of American citizens who are now hard put to it to earn sufficient money to keep their families in food and clothing. Under the present conditions the automobile has become a necessity or a semi-necessity for this class of people. On account of the increasing cost of city real estate and rents, the working man and clerk has been driven to the suburban communities and he must have a car to get back and forth from his work. Thousands of working people depend on jobs located miles from their homes, and with them the automobile is a necessity. The traveling salesman must have a car to make his living. The farmer must use a car to get his produce to the market and his children to the schools they ought to attend. The small merchant needs the automobile, both to enable him to buy where commodities are cheap and to deliver the goods to his customers. The fact that people who own cars for these reasons are automatically used them for pleasure purposes is incidental and beside the point. Without question the Victor Purcell and friend spent Sunday afternoon and evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Purcell.

Our rural mail carrier, George Henry Gear, has been very faithful during the winter and lost but one day on account of bad roads. He is liked by everyone.

Automobile is a necessity or a semi-necessity in the daily life of more than one million of the residents of New York state.

In More Taxation Reasonable? Already we are paying nearly $20,000,000 for the privilege of owning and operating this necessity. The question for us to consider is whether it is just or even reasonable to expect us to add another $18,000,000 and more of taxation to our present bill.

If we permit this gasoline tax to be passed this year, we subject ourselves to two separate forms of taxation which means that it is going to be doubly easy for future legislatures to extract more money from the motorist by jockeying back and forth between one tax and the other, ever increasing state funds are needed for water power projects, school purposes, canal improvements and so on and so forth. One year they will raise the income tax and the next year they will add a cent or so to the gasoline tax.

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press.)

Keene.—While William Kram was walking through the forest recently on a hunting trip he had the good fortune to stumble upon a hollow tree that proved to be a regular raccoon apartment house. Before the bewildered tenants could flee Kram had killed five. Their coats were worth sixty dollars.

Ithaca.—Judge Frank Irvine, former dean of the Cornell Law School and former public service commissioner, is having some fun over an old penal law he has unearthed. Enacted nearly a century ago and re-enacted in 1909, it prohibits puppet shows or performances by "common showmen, jugglers, mountebanks, etc." Such offense is punishable by a fine of $25, to be recovered by the overseers of the poor in the town where the show was given. A recent puppet show at Cornell served to recall the statute to the judge. He had no desire to condemn the "meritorious performance" at the institution of which he is an alumnus. But he did think the public's attention should be called to "the pitfalls in the way of law-abiding citizens dug by the legislature by the enactment of this and similar laws just as silly and which receive about all the respect they deserve."

Saranac Lake.—Eight mallard ducks on their way back from the sunny southland were out of luck and ran into an Adirondack billboard. About the time of their misadventure the chimney of a Franklin county house failed to function properly. The householder investigated and found eight bedraggled ducks jammed in the flue and rather the worse for gas and heat. The birds, attracted by the warm air from the chimney, apparently had been roosting on the rim when they were overcome by fumes.

Rochester.—The old Rochester Herald, which has ceased publication upon its purchase by and merger with the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle about a year ago, is appearing again, this time as a monthly house organ of the purchasing newspaper. It is written and edited by members of the Democrat and Chronicle staff.

Port Henry.—A spike-horn buck was killed by a train in a railroad tunnel here. It is believed the animal was seeking refuge from an unusually bitter wind that was sweeping across Lake Champlain.

Oneonta.—It's a long way from Oneonta to Torrington, Conn., but Rex, a snow white Eskimo dog, made it safely. He came back in a baggage car, footstool and far from snow white. Rex, owned by Miss Alice McCole of this city, left his home on January 31. His departure was broadcast to city, county and state officials, but nothing was heard of him for several weeks. Then Miss McCole was informed that the Torrington dog, which had been picked up on the streets of the Connecticut city, Rex was returned to Oneonta in a crate, with his collar slashed. Miss McCole believes he was stolen and that when the thief attempted to remove the collar the dog escaped, ending his Odyssey in Torrington.

PLUTARCH.

Pistachio, March 10.—Henry McCormick and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott and Mrs. Horace Elliott attended the meeting of the Pomona Grange at Plattekill on Friday last. They report a large attendance and an interesting meeting.

The Rev. R. B. Guice of Edenville, called on a number of people in this place on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Leilberg and daughter of Lloyd spent Saturday evening with Mrs. Axel Leilberg and daughter, Miss Nellie.

Mrs. Estella Albertson and Mrs. Frank Elliott have been ill with septic sore throat.

Daniel Degrad is having a new porch built on his house. Roland Leilberg is doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. John Markie and daughter, Goldie, were recent visitors in town.

Judson Van Vleet and son, William, of Lloyd were visitors in town Monday.

There was no school all last week and the teacher did not show up Monday morning so the scholars are having a good vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher and grandmother were visitors in Newburgh one day last week.

Kings Paralyzed

The class had been asked to write an essay on kings, and this is what one sent in: The most powerful king on earth is War-king; the latest, Shirk-king; the withest, Joking; the quietest, Thinking; the thirteenth, Drinking; the street, Winking; and the noisiest, Talking.

Why March Is the Most Dangerous Month

March is the most dangerous month of the year because the change of seasons is more than a good many systems can stand. If you are run-down, nervous and that persistent cough still hangs on IT'S TIME TO DO IT. Don't let this opportunity slip through your fingers. Just sit down a minute and think! Size up your condition; either you are in good health, you are not. There's no half way. You may think nothing of that tomorrow or next day—BUT WILL YOU?—Don't take the chances. Coughs and Colds that hang on at this period of the year are a real menace to yourself to try.

ERB-I-TOL the Tonic-Cough and Lung Remedy

The value of this great Indian Medicine as a spring tonic and built up has been proven by years of success. It soothes and heals breathing passages, and because of the nourishing vegetable dyes it contains helps to rebuild wasted tissue, and give new strength which to rebuild health. Get rid of that cough or cold now before it's too late. Your druggist has it. Insist on ERB-I-TOL. Prepared from Native Herbs. Introductory size, 60c; Medium size, $1.10; Economy size, $2.00.

Business Girls Enjoy Tableaux

Women Famous in History Presented by Board of Directors of Y. W. C. A. at Business Girls' Weekly Supper.

The announcement that the board of directors were going to entertain the girls at the Business Girls' supper on Wednesday evening at the Y. drew an unusually large crowd. The girls did a lot of singing during the supper, for the cleverly improvised little stage was very alluring. Miss Dorothy Kennedy, vice-president of the Business Girls' Club, presided in the place of the president, Miss Jessie Goodsell, whom it was developed was a part of the entertainment and therefore invisible early in the evening.

There was one announcement made by Dr. Mary Gage-Day relative to the open meeting of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday afternoon March 19. At that time the public health committee of the federation will act as the hostesses for the day and will present Miss Frances Lyons, a lawyer of considerable note, who will speak on "The Public Health Department of the League of Nations". Dr. Day invited all of the girls to hear the talk which will be given at 3 o'clock.

At last it came time for the mysterious entertainment and there was piano and violin music that was very pleasing, and later very historically appropriate played by Miss Anna and Miss Quimby, as the lights were lowered. The title of the entertainment was "Women Famous in History". It had been most cleverly arranged and stage-managed by Miss Sarah Horton.

As the curtains were drawn the various pictures were shown within a large gilded frame. The lighting was very effective as was the simple but accurate and thoroughly artistic background to each tableau. No time or trouble had been spared by those participating to reproduce the costume of the character they represented, as well as to express facially the spirit of the character, so that short and beautiful though the program was, it was also historically educational. It was as follows:

- I. Cleopatra—Last Queen of Egypt, 69-30 B. C. Miss Jessie Goodsell
- II. Queen Radegonda—Wife of Clovis I, King of France. She founded the Convent of Poitiers. Mrs. G. F. Rice
- III. Joan of Arc—French heroine. At 13 she began her great mission. 1411-1431 A. D. Miss Alma Tyler
- IV. Elizabeth—The Virgin Queen of England 1533-1603 Mrs. William Warren
- V. Marie Antoinette, Queen of France, wife of Louis XVI, executed by the guillotine October 16, 1793. Mrs. G. N. Wood
- VI. Dolly Madison, wife of James Madison fourth president of the United States and famous hostess of the White House. Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler
- VII. Jenny Lind, "Swedish Nightingale". In 1850, she came to America under the management of P. T. Barnum. Mrs. Benjamin Johnston (who sang "Home Sweet Home")

St. Patrick's Dance at Zena. The Zena Country Club will hold its annual St. Patrick's Day dance at the club house Thursday evening March 17. Music will be furnished by Peter, Boice and the Zena Country Club orchestra.

Chowder Sale Friday. The Immanuel Lutheran Church's Ladies Aid Society will hold a clam chowder sale on Friday March 11, in the church kitchen, starting at 11 o'clock.

No Pay

Henry A. Bellows, of Minneapolis and St. Paul, was one of the five members of the Federal Radio Commission who agreed to serve without pay until Congress meets again. He is a native of Maine.

Original "Know Nothings"

Agnosticism is a doctrine which teaches that we can have no knowledge except that acquired through the senses which may be called experience, and that we can know nothing of spiritual matters; that in fact, "we know nothing of what may be beyond phenomena." Agnosticism, therefore, leaves no room for the exercise of Christian faith.

Flash of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Mary May, back with a Paris divorce from Dick Barthelme, brings word that Europe is frantic about the Black Bottom. "You are a princess if you do it for them."

Harrisburg, Pa.—Miss Helen Grimes, member of a legislative committee thinks that a birth control bill is doomed to failure, especially because two Philadelphia girls sat in the front row snoring at a hearing on the matter.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Vassar College is to turn a bit co-educational in summer. Women may bring their husbands for a course on the theory and practice of home-making. Twelve husbands already have been registered by their wives.

Philadelphia—"The little old music mistress" concealed her identity in poverty and death revealed it. Francheschina Paris, once star dancer, died at 71 in a little room clutching a ballet slipper in which she had appeared before the Czar. Papers found in her room told of acclaim in by-gone days. In recent years she struggled for existence by teaching the piano.

New York—Hunting a bit-and-run motorist who killed her boy, Mrs. Anna Spetko is patrolling upper Park avenue daily with a sandwich placard asking that information be volunteered.

Rome—Men who permit wives and daughters to dress immodestly are to be disciplined. Supporting the Pope's ideas as to restraint, the organization of Catholic action is calling for speedy and discreet reports from members with a view to economic and moral boycotts.

Cleveland—The hard life of a wife of a soldier of fortune is described by Mrs. Anna Laura Archer, in answer to the charges made in a divorce suit by Captain Herman N. Archer, U. S. A., the original of Captain Mackin action hero of Richard Harding Davis. She avers she underwent hardships in every part of the globe for 22 years.

New York—Six hams for one dinner? "It seems an awful lot of ham to me," President Coolidge is quoted as telling Mrs. Elizabeth Jaffrey, formerly housekeeper at the White House, who is writing her recollections in Hearst's International magazine. She estimated Mr. Coolidge has saved $50,000 out of his salary and says he has more clothes than five previous presidents she knew.

Albany, N. Y.—It's going to cost the state $132 to polish up smooth-shaven George Washington while Charles E. Hughes whisks and all will be made spick and span for $88. Portraits of notables in the executive chamber at the Capitol are being scrubbed.

New York—Simon Rothschild, pioneer in the cloak and suit trade, who says he used to play poker with Grover Cleveland is 100 years old. Daily he smokes and takes something obtainable legally by prescription.

Concerning the Baby

Child experts say virtually every child is born with blue eyes. The permanent color does not appear until about three or four weeks after birth. Normal children always wear a continued expression during the first three months of life, and during the next three months they laugh and cry with great frequency. No mother has much a baby crisis. It never sheds a tear until eight weeks old.

MEETACRONS.

Philadelphia, March 10.—There will be an order supper on Thursday evening, March 24, at the Metropolitan Hall. Everyone welcome. Proceeds for the hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hargis and sons, Jim and Ben, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keller on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keller and sons Robert and Franklin, were entertained for dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. Keller's aunt, Mrs. A. R. Rader, Accord.

Stanley Keller and William H. Miller are busy working for the city in the house in this place.

Babe Slams Ball, Yanks Look Good

Those Who Believe "As Ruth Goes, So Go the Yankees", Are Pleased With Training Camp Results—Name Last as Last Season.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 10 (AP).—Babe Ruth is in the lineup and all's well with the Yankees. The slugging outfielder in practice promises to pick up his home run hitting where he left off in the world series, and the other players believe New York will ride to another American League pennant on the big bat of the Babe.

Those who believe "as Ruth goes, so go the Yankees," find much to please them in the spring training program as Ruth slams the ball to distant places. Only a few pounds above his normal weight for an ordinary athlete that places him in the proverbial pink of condition, the home run hitter seems certain to be right at the top of his game when the season opens.

To support the Babe, Manager Miller Huggins will offer the same cast he used to win the pennant last season. He will have some added starts in the reserves but will stand pat on the regulars.

With Gehrig, Lazzeri, Koenig, and Dugan enlisted for the duration of the baseball war, the infield contest is for an assistant. Mike Gaxiola has again first utility call. Ray Moore Hart, who came from the White Sox and Julian Wera, up from St. Paul, have shown so much speed in the camp that Spencer Adams may be pushed aside. There are several other young infielders scampering about the field.

A similar situation exists in the outfield. Ruth, Combs and Meusel are fixtures, with Paschal no less firmly entrenched as an extra man. Dast, obtained from the Browns in a trade by which Sam Jones went to St. Louis, is said to have been brought on because he is a left handed hitter. Bengough, and Collins, last year's catchers, have been joined by Grabowski, former White Sox, who won a place on the staff in short order. Jones and Braxton are missing from the pitching staff starting last season but Reuther, who was with Washington at this time last year, is on hand and Gird has taken off St. Louis uniform to put on New York colors.

It seems certain early in the game that Myles Thomas and Walter Beall, who spent most of their time in the bullpen last year, will be given more opportunity to do their stuff this season. Thomas especially has shown greatly improved form.

Of the new men on the staff George Pignas, bought from St. Paul, will be kept and may be a starting pitcher. Wilcy Moore, who won thirty games for Greenville, of the South Atlantic Association, last year, seems to have an excellent chance to remain under the big top. He is a big fellow with impressive "knuff" and a decided capacity for work.

Manager Huggins expects to again pin his faith on Pennock Hoyt and Shocker as his shock troops on the mound.

Predict Tight Race

Ty Cobb and Eddie Collins, two of the outstanding stars of the American league, predict a tight race for 1927. Both players say the Boston Red Sox is the only team you can definitely count out in the winter books.

Each liken the chances of Philadelphia and Washington best, with little to choose between New York and Cleveland. They rate Detroit, St. Louis and Chicago in the third tier of contenders.

SQUASH TENNIS GAINING FAVOR

Fits in Perfectly With the Tempo of Life in 1927.

The real reason for the extraordinary growth and ever-increasing popularity of squash tennis in the larger cities, says John R. Tunis in The Sportsman, is that it fits in so perfectly with the tempo of life in 1927.

Mr. Tunis holds that "this subtle game with its mobile variety, its dazzling quick changes and exchanges dovetails perfectly with the external life in the great cities in the United States."

"Its cheapness, its variety and speed, its accessibility, its competitiveness, its opportunity for exercise and concentrated exercise—these are just a few of the qualities that endear squash tennis to the business man."

"With the development of the round-the-corner game, that is, letting the ball carom from five walls before hitting it, which has been the means of expression of all the great players, there has been evolved a variety of shots which can perhaps be equaled only in such a game as billiards."

"Sheer speed has never won at squash tennis. Position play, a knowledge of court angles, footwork, and the ability to move quickly and anticipate shots are of far more value than speed, as the final results have shown on more than one occasion."

"You have shots that are impossible in any other game. It is these strokes which make the niceties of position play of such vast importance in squash tennis, and it is this wide scope of shots from all sorts of angles and all sorts of positions upon the court which makes it such a delightful mental as well as physical struggle. This explains why so many men, who during summer play nothing but a little golf, pursue squash tennis with such keenness and devotion during the winter."

According to Mr. Tunis the game originated late in the last century when two Bostonians, prevented from playing tennis by rain, retired to an empty barn. Later they played the game in New York in a fencing room and the idea immediately caught the fancy of such prominent New York tennis players as Harold Hackett and F. B. Alexander.

Irwin Leads in Point Scoring

Much interest has been shown throughout the basketball season by the members of the Senior Sunday School League in the leading scorers. Hank Dittus of the Redeemers occupied first place on the list of the leading ten until last week when he was beaten by Irwin of the First Dutch five. The Redeemers have three men among the leading scorers, Dittus heading them with 171 Irwin collected a total of 175 throughout the season.

The following is the number of points gained by each scorer in the league:

PORT EWEN SENIORS TROUCE TRINITY FIVE.

Wednesday night the Port Ewen Seniors added another win to their string. Trinity M. E. with a team strengthened with Kingston High School players, visited the Port Ewen court, and were defeated 53 to 12. Trinity, fighting hard in the first half, managed to get through the Port Ewen defense for one field, made by Jones Two fouls added, this comprised Trinity's total score for the first half. The Port Ewen boys got twenty-three points in this half.

In the second half, Johnson substituting for Jones made three fields, the highest individual score for his team. Thompson was the only other Trinity man to score during this half. The home team ran up thirty points while Trinity was making their six. Van Etten was high scorer for Port Ewen with twenty-four points.

N. Y. State High School Tourney

Poughkeepsie High School basketball team, winners of the 1926 DUSO League, will meet Wappingers Falls or Pine Plains Saturday evening at the Newburgh Armory, the first of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association elimination tournament.

The Westchester Interscholastic Greenburgh, Northern Westchester and Hudson River Leagues, will play at Ossining; and the Rockland County, Orange County, Dutchess County, and DUSO Leagues will play at Newburgh.

The four teams surviving the meets, will play in the Armory White Plains, Friday evening, March 18th, and the final game will be the White Plains Armory, Saturday evening, March 19th. The winning team will go to the Bator all expenses paid, for the Basketball Championship, March 24th, 25th, 26th.

ERENA ALL-STARS TAKE GAME FROM BIG FIVE

The Erena All-Stars snatched a fast contest from the Big Five Wednesday afternoon on the High School gym court. The final standing of the quintets was 31 to 27 with the Big Five on the adverse side of the tally.

The game was an interesting one and the Big Five showed up very well in the initial frame, at the end of which they were ahead of the All-Stars by nine markers, the score then registering 19 to 10.

In the second half the Erena boys manifested a burst of speed and completely puzzled their opponents who were unable to step the pace set by the victorious quintet and failed to score more than eight points while the All-Stars rolled up 21.

Tony Erena was the scintillating point gatherer for the winners while Irwin did the outstanding work for the vanquished five.

The score:

PORT EWEN FIVE IN SECOND PLACE

Port Ewen proved the superior of the Clinton Avenue five in the Senior Sunday School Basketball League on the "Y" court, Wednesday, March 2, and by so doing nabbed second berth in the standing of the clubs with 2 wins and 4 set-backs. The Redeemers' aggregation manifested their supremacy over all teams in the league at an early date and thus took first place several weeks ago. The standing of the clubs is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Per.
Redeemer	13	0	1.000
Port Ewen	8	4	.667
Clinton Avenue	2	5	.286

Charley Hollocher Now Is Pitching Horseshoes

One of the queerest freaks of baseball is to be found in the case of Charley Hollocher, a St. Louis boy, who distinguished himself for a year or two with the Cubs and then quit the game with hardly an excuse, writes Wray in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Today Hollocher is pitching horseshoes and collecting the rent from an apartment building—his sole source of income, unless he has recently acquired another.

Hollocher looked like the greatest infield prospect in the country four years ago, when shortstops who could hit, field and run with the best, were simply not to be found.

Three years ago he quit in midseason, saying he was sick. Although the Cubs bought him and cajoled him and bashed real money before him, Hollocher insisted he was too sick to play. He has never returned to duty.

So far as has been learned, Hollocher has had no serious illness; yet, though young, he manifests no intention of going back to reap some of the financial harvest that awaits him.

ST. PETER'S BOWLERS LOSE TO "Y" MEN

The Y. M. C. A. bowlers gave the St. Peter's Juniors a drubbing on the Saint's court Wednesday night when they took three contests from them. The winning aggregation manifested their supremacy by scattering the maples to a better advantage than the St. Peter's team in every one of the three games and the margin by which the victory was registered numbered 164 pins.

The score:

Old French Province

Burgundy was the name of one of the old provinces of France. It adjoined Switzerland and Savoy on the east and included parts of the borders of the Loire, Rhone and Saone rivers. It is one of the oldest agricultural districts of France. One of its leading products is wine, known by the general name of Burgundy. Spices is one of its chief crops.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 10 (AP).—The upward movement of stock prices was resumed today with the rally again in the forefront of the advance. Seasoned dividend paying stocks and industrials, offering a return in excess of the open market rate, and current high grade bond yields, were well supported by investment buying, which has been reported as fairly heavy in the last few days, despite the approach of income tax payments.

There was no change in the credit situation, and an apparent abundance of funds was available at the 4 per cent renewal rate on all call loans. The Bank of England rate was announced as unchanged at 3 per cent. Directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank met after the close of the market, but no immediate change in the 4 per cent rate is looked for.

The tonnage report of the U. S. Steel Corporation, showing a drop of slightly more than 200,000 tons in unfilled orders last month, was slightly better than expected in view of the relatively high rate of operations. Wall Street apparently regarded the report as bullish because U. S. Steel common crossed 161, and the new "when issued" stock touched a new high record at 117½.

General Motors again changed hands in large blocks at advancing prices, duplicating the high record of 17½ established since the declaration of the stock dividend. Mack Trucks also received good support, but Hudson, a recent strong spot, moved within rather narrow limits. Stromberg Carburetor touched another new low record at 33. Remington Typewriter soared 8 points and the certificates of deposit 4½, both touching new record highs. Baldwin, Federal Mining and Smelting, common and preferred, Norfolk and Western, Lehigh Valley and Wabash also recorded large gains, but Commercial Solvents B was heavy.

Another Blizzard Hits Colorado

Denver, March 10 (AP).—A blizzard in southern Colorado today delayed trains, blocked highways and blasted hopes of San Juan Valley mining communities to re-establish transportation lines severed a month ago by snow slides.

Passengers on a Denver and Rio Grande western train enroute from Durango to Denver, were marooned at Omaha, New Mexico, while another train was stalled by drifts between Telluride and Durango.

While the precipitation was light in the lowlands, a heavy snowfall was reported in the mountain districts where crews had attempted unsuccessfully to clear new slides, adding to the hazards of clearing the tracks in which work several men have been killed this winter.

Silverton, where 1,200 persons have been isolated for weeks, and Eureka, with a population of 150, reported ample food on hand, and announced all available men would be thrown into the work of clearing railroad tracks. Both towns depended on mule packs for medical supplies and other necessities until Tuesday, when an airplane succeeded in reaching them.

Refreshments will be served and a pleasant evening is promised.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church held at the home of Mrs. Chauncey Freer on Stout avenue, Wednesday, there was a large attendance. The member contest ended at this meeting; the result was 95 new members added to the list. Mrs. Loretta Lowe, captain of one side brought in 41 members, Mrs. Elvin-Hutchinson, captain No. 2, brought in 54 members. The losers will give a supper to the winners Friday evening, April 1, in the Sunday school room.

Mid-week prayer service this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist Church. A meeting of the Sunday school board will be held at 8 o'clock.

A very pleasant evening awaits all at the Methodist Church House, Friday evening, March 11. The attractive program has been announced. One of the attractions will be homestead-ice cream. Tickets now on sale. Proceeds for the benefit of the Missionary Department of the M. E. Sunday school.

Great preparations are being made for the chicken supper and dance to be held in Odd Fellows' Hall, Wednesday evening, March 16. Tickets on sale by members of Garfield Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Lucretia Rebekah Lodge will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the rooms in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Account of death in the family the store of Harry Jump will be closed all day Friday.

Mrs. Chester DeGraff of Stout avenue is visiting her mother at Harrisburgh, Pa., for a few weeks.

Mrs. Charles Zimmerman of Salem street, who has been ill, is improving. Dr. G. W. Ross is attending her.

Mrs. Hiram T. Van Wart of Hoboken, N. J., is spending a few days here.

Mrs. Lillie Smith of Salem street is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beeres in Kingston.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas W. Perrine, Broadway, Wednesday evening. The event was the celebration of Mrs. Perrine's birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Suffir, Mrs. J. J. Munson and sons, Rolston and Leslie, and daughters, Helen and Olive, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Munson and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Munson and son, Leslie, and daughter, Jane, of Kingston. A bountiful repast was served. Mrs. Perrine was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The party broke up at a late hour, all wishing Mrs. Perrine many more happy birthdays.

A card party will be given Friday evening for the benefit of the Port Ewen Free Library at the home of Mrs. F. Dorr, South avenue. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

MID-HUDSON BRIDGE

$775,000 BELOW ESTIMATE.

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP).—Governor Smith will submit to the legislature a recommendation for the creation of the Niagara Frontier Authority with power to finance port development at Buffalo and such projects as the Grand Island bridges. It was announced today.

The proposed Niagara frontier authority would be patterned after the New York Port Authority.

It was also announced that low bid for construction of the mid-Hudson highway bridge at Poughkeepsie would probably be about $775,000 below the amount originally anticipated when bonds for the work were authorized. No decision was reached as to the use of this expected surplus.

Baxter's Sent-Wee Suspended.
James Baxter, arrested on the Strand by the police Wednesday afternoon on a charge of public intoxication, was sentenced to five days in the county jail in police court today, and serving of the sentence was suspended. Baxter, who lives on Sycamore street, was in such condition when taken to police headquarters that Chief of Police Wood called Dr. John P. Larkin, police surgeon, to examine him when he was arrested in the county jail for the night.

48-Hour Bill On Final Passage

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP).—The Shook Bill to limit the working hours of women and minors in industry to 48 a week was advanced to the order of final passage today by the Assembly, with indications that the measure will have a spirited debate when it comes up again, probably Monday night.

Democrats first "struck out" on the bill today, but withdrew their objection. The bill was about to be advanced when Assemblyman Boyle, Jr., Republican of Suffolk, asked that the measure go over until Monday.

When the house had completed its calendar, Majority Leader Russell G. Dunmore moved to reconsider the vote by which the Shook Bill was allowed to go over until Monday. "It is essential that this bill be advanced as rapidly as possible," Mr. Dunmore said.

Mr. Boyle demurred. Many working women, he declared, had approached him with a request to be informed when the bill was to be on the calendar and he had no way of letting them know today. He finally withdrew his objection, however, and the bill was advanced.

Kiwanis Favors Gasoline Tax

At the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club today at the Governor Clinton Hotel the club voted unanimously in favor of the proposed tax on gasoline with the proviso that the proceeds be devoted exclusively to the roads and not merged in a general fund.

LAST NIGHT

on the RADIO

FIRST ENGLISH GIRL VET

Reception Wednesday evening displayed the same peculiarities manifest for several preceding nights on stations coming in strong for an hour or so around 7 o'clock, and then dropping dead for an hour or two. WSAI, for instance, was almost miraculously good at 7 o'clock, died before 8 and came back feebly after 10. WGY, perfect until 10 o'clock, began to wheeze and gurgle at that time and kept it up to the finish. WJZ, good most of the evening, also had several choking spells, and like WGY, after 10 o'clock became rapidly no better. Shortly after 7 there was heavy static, preceding the blanketing.

The tooth brush programs and the Homington Band were about the clearest part of any of the programs. WODA had a regular old fashioned Moody and Sankey revival service that must have thrilled the fans who like their religion served up that way.

Roxie and the Gang were the features Monday evening, making their first appearance after a year of retirement. It's the same old Roxie with his same old greeting, followed by the giggles of the Gang and the same old "Good night, pleasant dreams, God bless you," at the end of the program. Nobody but Roxie can say things like these the way Roxie does and the fans welcome Roxie and his Gang back on the air. But wasn't it rather gushy for the announcer to describe Roxie's new theatre as "the cathedral of motion pictures?"

Announcers at WJZ have been known to slip over.

WGL, still given on the program as on 422 meters, has moved up to about 440 meters. A further improvement would be for WGL to move up to 440.000 meters and take about 400 other stations with it.

WRST was testing along with it, and should have been satisfied with the test, as its signal was much better than usual.

Speaking of testing, there must be great doings in preparation at WGY as that station is playing talking machine records every day and nearly all day. Sometimes the music is clear and loud. Other times it is very faint and far away. Apparently various new methods of broadcasting are being given a try-out. The test call of WGY is 2XAG.

WWVA at Wheeling is coming to the front as a strong station Monday evenings when WLS is off the air, but should not be permitted to broadcast on other evenings, as it interferes with the Chicago station.

WMFB seems to have been snowed under by WLWL and WTAM. WFHH, Clearwater, is the Florida big noise now on about 355 meters.

STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT CHEST CLINICS ARRANGED

Miss Lillian D. Hagelweide, R. N., Ulster county nurse, has practically completed arrangements for consultation clinics in the following places: Saugerties—Sydney Hoss Company fire house, Wednesday, March 23; Kingston—Court House, Wall Street, Thursday, March 24; Kingston—Court House, Wall Street, Friday, March 25.

The State Department of Health has assured Miss Hagelweide that they will supply two examining physicians and X-ray equipment. These clinics are of inestimable value to the community and it is hoped that those who have symptoms referable to the chest will make application through their family physician for special examination.

Port Only a Memory

Coffee was originally shipped from the port of Mocha, to which it owes the name "Mocha." But for about 200 years nothing has been shipped from that port, which has been closed by drifting sand. This same, however, has clung ever since to a certain kind of high-grade coffee. Abyssinia now ships a grade of Mocha, and much of that kind of coffee is shipped from Aden, Arabia.

Heroic Uruguayan Fliers Land in Ocean; Swim Ashore; Become 'Guests' of Roving Moors of the African Wastes

Major Larre-Borges and his companions in the Uruguayan trans-Atlantic flight, fell into the hands of wandering Moors after their plane crashed near Cape Jube, Africa, and they swam ashore. The Moors were friendly, and although they were expected to demand a "reward," they marched them to civilization. The map shows Cape Ghir, where white searchers started their hunt for the heroic adventurers, and Cape Jube, near where their plane fell. Above is shown a typical Moorish chieftain, such as became host to the fliers, and a typical Moorish camp, similar to the ones in which the men were quartered on their march to civilization.

Thousands Die in Earthquake That Shakes Japan; Cold Weather and Loss of Homes Spread Suffering

A severe three-minute earthquake rocked Central Japan, killing thousands, injuring countless more, shattering homes, and driving inhabitants out into freezing weather. Many of the buildings shown in the picture of Kobe are now in ruins, and at that point an American woman was knocked off the gangplank of a liner and was killed. The area shown on the map was reported strewn with wreckage, and death lists were reported from the cities and towns shown.

Gate of Immortality

Not by immortals and immortal chance ought we to celebrate the advent of a good man, but by hymns; for in coming to be numbered with mortals, he enters upon the heritage of a divine life.—Fluorick

SAUGERTIES MAN BADLY

HURT IN A CONVEYOR.

Hobart Bach of Saugerties while at work Tuesday in the Martin Cantine Company factory in that village had his foot badly injured and is a patient at the Kingston City Hospital. He was standing near the top of a wooden case conveyor, fixing something above his head, when the conveyor was suddenly started, carrying him to the top where his foot was caught between the floor and conveyor, unable to go further.

For several minutes he remained in that position, during which time the moving platform kept squeezing his foot between the floor and the machine. At the hospital it was found that the conveyor had twisted the foot out of shape. The toes were twisted at right angles and the small bones in the bottom of the foot were pushed almost through the top of the foot. The surgeons straightened out the foot and re-attached the small bones. The foot was not crushed or mangled and the doctors are hopeful of saving it. Bach, who is 23 years old, was married a few weeks ago.
